

Geowissenschaftliches Kolloquium

Geosciences in interdisciplinary projects deciphering our history: Case study and documentary

Donnerstag, 7. November 2019 - 16.15 Uhr

Mayke Wagner
Deutsches Archäologisches Institut

Earth scientists and archaeologists share the aspiration to find the roots of modern things in processes of the deep past - in their various archives. How their cooperation can lead to a surprising result, will be shown in a documentary film.

Since 2000, Prof. Dr. Mayke Wagner is scientific director of the Eurasia Department of the German Archaeological Institute. Her research interests include human environment interaction, the history of knowledge, and statistical analyses of archaeological mass data in East Asia.

Layout: FUB GeOPal Vanessa Skiba, 2019.03.03

Institut für Geologische Wissenschaften

Großer Hörsaal (C.011), Haus C
Malteserstrasse 74-100
12249 Berlin

www.geo.fu-berlin.de/geol/kolloquium